THE CONTEMPT CASE.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM—May 29—Before Judges
DAVIES, INGRAMAM and SUTHERLAND.
The People axial John W. Michellag. The Sherif of New-York.
This morning the following opinion was rendered in INGRAHAM, J.-The relator applied by petition for the course, and on the return of the writ, was brought before the Court by the Sheriff. He returns that he helds the prisones by virtue of and according to the teror, manner and command of certain commitment for an alleged contempt, a copy of which we thereto america.

efficer can inquire into a case of commutment for contempt in the case of Devile.

In that case, which was before a Justice of this Court in a special proceeding and not in Court, it was held that only two questions could be examined—first, as to jurisdiction, and secondly, as to the form of the commitment. That role is applicable to this case. It is apparent that the Court had authority to examine the witness, and in the language of Judge Bronesu in The People act. Capela, S. Hill, 163. If the Justice had sathority trinquire into the offense, the commitment could not be impeaced upon indeed corpus for any supposed error in requiring the witness to answer an improper question. The contempt was specially charged, and it was the duty of the Judge to remand the prisoner. And actin he says, "It is evident that the Legislature old not intend to provide for a retrial by habeas corpus in such a case." And the many impury allowed in that case, as in the case of Devin, was as to the jurisdiction of the magnetrate. As that jurisdiction in the present case is undoubted, and the commitment is sufficient in form, and contains all that the statute requires, we are of the opinion that the prisoner must be remanded and the writ discharged.

An application was made to the Court yesterday for the allowance of the certiforal in the same matter.

Although we do not feel at liberty to refuse the allowance of the writ if the relator desires it under the provisions of the Revised Ratotes, whose makes it always the duty of the Court or Juage to allow the writ, still we suppose that the counsel will see from an view in the above opinion, that for the reasons above stated are could not review the judgment of the Common Pleas in this matter, and that the issuing of that writ would be unavailing to be party.

The writ also should be directed to the officer having the cus-leogy of the prisoner, and not to the Judge who made the order feaction 32), and the form of the writ as given in the statule are see, 50, is only to return the day and cause of imprisonment, and soft the proceedings.

If the writ of certionari is denied, it will be allowed in the form directed by the statute.

The downward movement of the market has been precipitated by the bold and energetic efforts of the bears, who, conscious of an almost complete absence of cutside support, and of the distrustful feeling awakesed by the British Outrage question, have put out contracts for delivery without besitation, and to an extent sufficient of itself to break down prices. Some of the large helders of Stock also, who have hitherto to May 27: been prominent in sustaining the market-no doubt feeling some degree of uneasiness on the same points which provoke the attacks of the bears-have quietly sold a considerable amount of Stock, and thus given to the depression more permanency and strength than it could otherwise have attained during a period of so much absolute menetary abundance. The speculative chances of the market now are in favor of a reaction from these low figures-not only as the natural consequence of unusual and partly unwarranted decline, but as the result of oversales on short account, which always bring about a demand to cover contracts on the first signs of a turn in the current. In opposition to this, however, we have the constant sgustion of the English question, which, bowever much we may be inclined to regard as a matter of no serious consequence, is still suggestive of trouble enough to create uneariness and hesitation. Every belligerent speech of our excessively particlic members of Congress, and every warlike editorial which eminates from the press, contributes each to increase the inquietude of the public, and the result of the continued agriction is delay and inaction, if not alarm. While, therefore, under ordinary circumstances a strong rally in the Stock market might be anticipated to follow a sudden and severe downfall in prices, such as we have witnessed during the last week, it is now a matter of doubt whether a reaction can be vigorously sustained until the war cloud, which gives pacie makers a chance to work effectively upon the fears of the public, has been completely dispersed. At the First Board there was considerable activity under a pressure of stock for sale, and in all o the speculative spares there was a marked decline as compared with the closing prices of Friday. The most at the next session of the Court. decided fall was in Cleveland and Toledo, which, under a free supply of stock, went to 35, but was rather firmer in closing sales. The particular weakness of this stock is accounted for by the alleged sale of a large lot by some of its recent supporters, which has temporarily over-supplied the market. Erie, with very moderate transactions, went down to 201, and was heavy at the quotation. Hudson River, Reading and Michigan Southern declined from | to 1 & cent each, but had no particular prominence in the business of the see sion. Galens and Rock Island followed in the same direction, and were offered down on sellers' option at large differences, but were taken in this way with more than usual caution. New-York Central was sold as low as 821 on seller's option, but had more strength and support in concluding transactions. The tone of the market during the whole session was that of weakness and depression, with scarcely a symptom of reactionary feeling, although for one or two stocks the demand at the lowest figures given was quite animated. At the Second Board prices were a shade better, and there was temporarily a more active demand for New York Central and Toledo. There was an improvement also of 1 to | P cent in the shares, but the rally had not the appearance of permanency. After the adjournment quotations were again a fraction lower, and the market closed rather unsettled and irregular. Bonds were not active, and although in some instances some cases even lower. The Bank Statement will show a further diminution of specie, by the reason of the payments in the Sub-Tressury for the three-million issue of Treasury notes. We have also sent some gold to the South to sustain the banks in their resump ion of specie payments. Gov. Packer of Pennsylvania has signed the Usury bill passed by the late Legislature. By this bill lenders and borrowers may contract at any rate of interest they please, the law taking no cognizance of any higher rate, however, than 6 P cent, and w.1 lend to aid to lower, appear to sympathize with the heaviness noticed in the share list, more by inactivity than depression.

State stocks are, upon the whole, very well main-tained. Illinois Central bonds under severe hammer ing have declined to 87. La Crosse Land Grants fell off ! F cent, but were up again to 331 at the Second Board. We hear of considerable transactions in City bonds sutside of the Stock Board. St. Louis 6 P.

he sertiment is so strong against any City which has shown the elightest hesitation in regard to meeting principal or interest of former loans, that a high stand-

The advices from California by the Moses Taylor are very favorable in regard to the yield of gold. New lacers of great richness were being discovered in various ections of the country, and the miners were well rewarded for their labor. CALIFORNIA VERSUS AUSTRALIA.

From The San Francisco Alta California.

By the arrival of the bark What Cheer, from Australia, we are enabled to lay before our readers a statement of the amount of gold produced there since 1851, and to institute a comparison between that product and the amount poured into the coffers of the world from our own piacers. The Australian statistics are compiled from the reports made by The Meltourne Herald, and are probably reliable.

The whole amount of gold produced in each year, from 1851 to 1857, inclusive, is as follows: By the arrival of the bark What Cheer, from Aus

Against this same years in CLIFFORNIA.

1851. $42,532,635,1585. $63,080,211

1852. $46,586,134,1556. $48,567,543

1853. $7,331,024,1857. $48,970,277

1854. $1,328,633

This leaves a balance in favor of California of $6.3, 674,707. The Australian gold is estimated at a far higher rate of fineness than that of our own country, viz., at twenty dollars the cunce.

This is probably a higher value than it will justly bear, and, therefore, whatever may be the amount of the over estimate, it increases the value in favor of California.

California.

This should set at rest the question of the compara-This should set at rest the question of the comparative richness of the two countries in the precious metals which has heretofore been a disputed point, since the product of California has been made by a mining population far smaller than that of the Colony of Victoria.

We have here a sum total of over six hundred millions of gold that have been added to the wealth of the world in the past six years (exclusive of the amount produced in California prior to 1851), as is shown by formia. It is a re-sonable estimate to say that at sect two hundred millions in value of gold in addition has found its way into the world, through other scurces, from the soul of Cabfornia and Apetralia—or, in round from the soils of Cahfornia and Abstrain—or, is round not bers, making eight bundred millions of deliars in selid gold as the grand tetal.
